However, the situation now appears to be under control and the Group's daily operations have not been affected. The Group and Mr. Bankee Kwan confirm there are no financial problems, the Group is financially healthy, and business will be carried out and investments made as planned.
- (5) The Group is grateful to all our staff members, who responded responsibly and worked together to confront the violent acts. We would also like to thank our clients, partners, and friends for their sympathy, care, trust, and support for the Group and our Chairman in the past few days.
- (6) The Police think that there may be further nuisance acts, but the Group will not be afraid, not give in, nor compromise. We will fully cooperate with the Police to track down and capture the perpetrators and parties behind the scene to bring peace and order back to society. We hereby offer our apologies for any inconvenience that may be caused, if any.
